HOUSE COMMITTEES WILL BE CHANGED.

Result of Election Will Necessitate Much Shifting About in the Chairmanships.

If Cannon Is Elected Speaker It Is Board Takes Action on Measure Believed Hemmenway of Indiana Will Succeed Him as Head of Appropriations.

The Republic Bureau, 14th St. and Pennsylvania Ave. Washington, Nov. 6.-The effect of Tuesday's election on the committees of the House is a most interesting question. Chairmen of committees who will not be members of the Fifty-eighth Congress in-clude Representative Tayler of Ohlo, chair-Mann of Illinois. Representative Driscoll of New York is next in line for the chairman ship of Elections Committee No. 3, which be relinquished by Representative Weeks of Michigan. The transfer of Judge of New York to the Federal bench in that State will clevate Representative Jenkins of Wisconsin to the chairmanship of the Julic Buildings Committee, is defeated. Gillette of New York probably will succeed him as chairman The Committee on Post Offices and Post Roads, which has been presided over so long by Representative Loud of California, will likely be tendered to Mr. Ketcham of New York, the ranking member. The retirement of Mr. Knox of Massachusetts from Con gress will leave a vacancy at the head of diciary Committee. Mr. Jenkins is a prominent member of the District Committee

Mercer of Nebraska, chairman of the Pub

Hamilton of Michigan will be in line. The Committee on Manufactures will lose its chairman, Mr. Steele of Indiana, and Mr. Emerson of New York, the ranking member, leaving Mr. Gill of Illinois as next In line for the chairmanship. The first three members of the Committee on Mines and Mining have all failed of election—Mr. Eddy of Minnesota, chairman; Mr. Connell of Pennsylvania and Mr. Sheldon of Michigan. This leaves Mr. Moody of Oregon as the ranking member and available for the chairmanship. The retirement of Representative Gallush A. Grow of Pennsylvania and Knox Gallush A. Grow of Pennsylvania and Knox of Massachusetts, the chairman and ranking member, respectively, of the Committee on Education, will no doubt result in the promotion of Representative Jack of Pennsylvania to this chairmanship. Both Mr. Reaves of Illinois and Mr. Corliss of Michigan, the chairman and ranking member of the Committee on Patents, are retired, leaving Representative Tompkins of New York as next in line of promotion to head that committee. Mr. Smith of Illinois having been defeated, Mr. Watson of Indiana will undoubtedly succeed him as chairman of the Private Land Claims Committee. The defeat of Mr. Corliss of Michigan will leave a vacancy at the head of the Com-

The defeat of Mr. Corliss of Michigan will leave a vacancy at the head of the Committee on the Election of President and Vice President and Representatives in Congress, to which Representative Sulloway of New Hampshire may succeed. Mr. Sulloway, however, has the chairmanship of Invalid Pensions Committee and may not desire to change. Representative Curtis of Kanaas is the next in line. Representative Robert Adams, Jr., of Philadelphia will probably be tendered the chairmanship of the Immigration Committee, which will be made vacant by the retirement of General Shattuc of Ohio.

The death of Representative Russell of tures in the new, by the retirement of Representative Pletcher of Minnesota, Representative Pletcher of Minnesota, chairman of the Committee on Expenditures on Public Buildings, has been defeated. Mr. Hughes of West Virginia will undoubtedly succeed to this chairmanship.

the Committee on Printing will make Representative Borsing of Kentucky eligible for this place.

Should the probabilities in the speakership line be fulfilled by the choice of Representative Cannon of Illinois to the chair, the Committee on Appropriations would undoubtedly be tendered to Representative Bingham of Pennsylvania. Mr. Bingham, however, has poor health, and as the duties of chairman of the Appropriations Committee are perhaps the most arduous of any chairmanship in the House, it is not unlikely that Mr. Bingham would decline. This would leave Representative Hemenway of Indiana as the next in line. Mr. Hemenway is comparatively a young man. He is an experienced member of the Appropriations Committee, a particularly close friend of Chairman Cannon, and it is not at all unlikely that he will be the selection of the Bpeaker, should that officer be Mr. Cannon, as the head of this committee.

The chairmanships of the House not named above are not affected by the election, and will undoubtedly remain the same. The personnel of all the committees, however, will be changed to some extent when the work of apportioning the larger namber of members of the House to committee assignments is taken up.

ATHENS EXPO. IS POSTPONED. Date of Opening Now Set for April 7, 1903.

Washington, Nov. &—The International Exposition of Industry, Commerce, Art and Hygiene, which was to have been opened in Athens the 15th ultimo, has been postponed until the 7th of April, 1908. This postponement has been found necessary in order to allow the Greek Government more time for the organisation of the movement. Incidentally, it will allow more time for foreign nations to participate.

United States Consul Jackson at Patras, in reporting this matter to the State Department, says that the postponement will make possible an intelligent display of American products, for which there is a fine opening in the Greek market. Certain farming implements, mechanical instruments and devices of every sort, including typewriters, letter and priming presses, engines of various types, currant-cleaning machinery, lighting apparatus, lamps, dynamos and electrical applances and a long list of similar goods, the Consul says, will find favor with the Greek people. He adds that an American exhibit may induce a like favor for the Louisiana Purchase Exposition.

ALUM FOR WATER OPPOSED BY B. P. I.

Water Commissioner Flad's Proposed Ordinance for Clarification Returned to Him.

INTEREST AT WASHINGTON. SCHEME WILL BE CHANGED.

Which Was Rejected by City Council Because It Embodied Two Methods.

Alum is not to be used as a congulant for purifying the water supply of St. Louis.

This decision was arrived at yesterday when the Water Committee of the Board of Public Improvements referred back to Water Commissioner Flad his draft of an ordinance providing for two methods of clarification, with the instruction that he man of Elections Committee No. 1, which unseated Butler of St. Louis. The ranking only for sedimentation, excluding congulaamend the ordinance so that it will provide

> The ordinance in its original state was sent to the City Council with the board's approval, and later returned with the request that it be divided into two bills, as it provided two methods of purifying the water, namely by congulation with the use of alum and sedimentation by reconstructing the water settling basins at the Chain of Rocks.

of Rocks.

Public opinion opposed the use of alum or any other chemical in water, and consequently the Water Committee decided to eliminate that portion of the proposed ordinance which provided for the use of alum. Mr. Flad's scheme for carifying the water embodied the use of alum as a coagulant and sedimentation, which latter process, he declares, is but part of the method.

method.

It is a matter of conjecture as to when Mr. Flad will amend his ordinance and return it to the board. He is not pleased with the opposition to his original plan.

Indian Inspector Reports to Govern ment that the Surveys Are Nearing Completion.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL Interior has received the annual report of tory. It states that during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1901, the exterior limits of practically all the towns in the Indian Territory having more than 200 population were established, and a number of interior sur veys completed. The work which has been nder way during the past year has been almost entirely surveying and platting these the limits had once been determined upon. been dealt with during the year have been

Therefore, in determining the limits of Cherokee towns the original boundaries were not followed.

inal boundaries were not followed.

The interior subdivisional surveys of all towns having a population of 200 or more in the Choctaw, Chickasaw and Cherokee nations, and all towns in the Creek Nation, were practically completed on June 30, 1962. In conclusion, the report states: "The complicated condition of affairs in the Indian Territory will necessarily continue until the present work of alloting lands and disposing of town lots is completed and the various tribal governments, with their laws, are extinguished. The greatest need of the Terrifory at this time is educational facilities for noncitizens. This subject, however, has had the attention of the department and Congress.

"In view of the recent supplemental agreements with the several tribes, which have had the careful consideration of the department before being submitted to and ratified by the last session of Congress, no recommendations for additional legislation are made at this time, the work to be performed being to carry out the provisions of these agreements. I do, however, respectfully invite attention to the urgent need for some provision being made requiring deeds, mortages, etc., to be recorded.

"A bill introduced at the last session of Congress providing for the protection and preservation of game in the Indian Territory falled to become a law. Such a law is much needed and desired by all, and I therefore respectfully recommend that the matter be again submitted for the consideration of Congress."

ment is reluctant to commit itself on the subject of prise fighting in the army. Some time ago the Commanding General of the Department of the Missouri requested a decision of the department upon the question of right of an enlisted man in the army to participate as a principal in an athletic beging contest.

In reply he was informed that there are some subjects as to which it a impossible for the War Department to prescribe a uniform rule, and this is one of them. But apart from the strict law in the case it is a matter of common information that local sentiment is divided in respect to contests of the kind described, and this adds to the difficulty of framing a rule, were there no legal obstacles in the way of its preparation."

There being no legal power in the department to establish a rule on the subject, the Acting Secretary of War decides that the question presented be left to the regulation of the post commander.
